Twelve from Vanderbilt Stables for Today's Relays—
Club to be Entertained by Chas. P. Williams of Stonington—apt. Walter S. Harrington's Damaging Testimony—Death of Mrs. James B. C. onnell—Closing Ball Games Today.

There was only one case tried at the regular session of the Third district court, Friday, Judge Oliver H. Williams, although there were many cases called and continued.

Peter Coffone complained that he was assaulted with a knife by Nicola Wona and claimed damages of $300 for injuries sustained and for the loss of service by reason of the injuries. The case was not preceded by civil action.

The testimony for the plaintiff was in substance that on the night of July 10 last Anthony, a brother of Nicola Wona, was in a row with Frank Turnova, in the moor of Peter Coffone, which was in the lower tenement of the same house occupied by the Wona family. Nicola Wona came down the stairs, knife in hand, and struck Coffone in the head in defense of his brother. Turnova struck the upstair arm of Wona and only a slight wound was made in Coffone's head.

The defendant's testimony was in effect that when Nicola came down the stairs he saw Coffone with a baseball bat in his hands and was about to use it upon Arthur. Nicola pushed Arthur aside and grappled with Coffone for the possession of the bat, and during the scuffle, Nicola Wona struck Coffone in the top of the head with the end of the knife handle.

Dr. John L. May testified that when Coffone called at his office the next morning there was only a slight abrasion on the head, so slight that no treatment was given.

Judgment of putative damages of $25 and costs of $14 was given for plaintiff.

James E. Bliven, formerly of Westery, who in want of a better subject has now opportunity to tell the story of his life, from Bell Boy to Preacher, Mr. Bliven is a native of Westery and was educated in the local schools and later employed as a bell boy in the Dixon house. Several years ago he went west for the benefit of his health and finally became a member of the California conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church last month. He has been in charge of a church at Santa Barbara, Cal.

Capt. Howard O. Dunn, United States navy, and a resident of Westery, who spent a portion of the summer here at the Dunn homestead, has been assigned to the command of the ship Idaho, and will report for that duty without delay.

While waiting for sea service, Captain Dunn has been stationed at the Brooklyn navy yard. The former commander of the Idaho will report for duty at the Brooklyn navy yard.

At the annual convention of the Northeastern Dental association in Providence, Connecticut was represented by Drs. James McManis of Hartford, C. P. Boutwell of South Norwalk, Albert W. Crosby of New London and James H. Weeks, Jr., of Stonington.

Dr. Richard W. Browne of New London, formerly a member of the dental commission of Connecticut, tendered his resignation on account of his retirement from active practice, but the association, in recognition of his distinguished services in the profession, made him an honorary member.

Capt. Walter E. Harrington, range

officer at Rumford, the state range of the Rhode Island national guard, made a statement to the board Thursday evening that the governor's trophy of 1908 was awarded to Troop B by the specific order of Gen. Herbert S. Tanner, the commander of the Rhode Island national guard.

Captain Harrington declared that General Tanner had told him to award the trophy to Troop B, saying that the troop had shot with more men at the range than Company E of Westery, which had the highest figures of merit according to the score at the range. The prize was awarded in accordance with orders.

The party of the New York Coaching club on tour from New York to Newport is due to arrive in Westery between eleven o'clock and noon today (Saturday). Twelve horses from the stables of Alfred G. Vanderbilt in Newport arrived here by express on Thursday night, accompanied by six men, and will be used in three relays, the first at Mystic, the second at Westery, and the third at Charlestown near Cross Mills. Soon after arrival four of the horses were led to Mystic, four to Charlestown and the other four were put up at James A. Welch's stable.

The harness has been thoroughly cleaned, the traces mounted, polished, the horses carefully groomed, and chances will be made at the stations with the least possible delay.

When the party reaches the residence of Charles P. Williams, Stonington, a short stop will be made and the party entertained by Mr. Williams, who is a member of the club and who is an expert whip. While it was a fact with Mr. Vanderbilt and other wealthy men to personally drive their coaches on schedule time over established coach routes, carrying passengers for hire, Mr. Williams indulged in the pastime. He established a stage route between Watch Hill and Eastern Point, making daily trips with relay of horses on schedule time, and carried passengers at the rate of $5 a seat. Mr. Williams had an historic coach, the best of horses and the whole outfit was complete. He enjoyed the novelty of the vacation and made uninterrupted daily trips all through the summer season.

His first trip was from Stonington to Eastern Point and he carried a special party which included newspaper representatives, who were royally entertained by Mr. Williams at the Grissold hotel.

The story told of the drowning of

E. Kaplan's horse in the Pawcatuck river, on the Connecticut side, is not strictly true. It has since been learned that the horse was drowned in the large pond on the Horace & Lewis farm in the town of North Stonington near Room bridge. The driver of the horse took advantage of the absence of Mr. Lewis and drove into the apple orchard, leaving the horse to roam at will.

The horse walked down the bank of the pond to get a drink, and, as the wagon was heavily laden with junk the horse was pushed into the cove and drowned.

Mr. Kaplan places his loss at $175, but it is hardly believed he will bring suit for damages, as probably would have been the case were the first story true. It was then claimed that the horse went out of an unprotected section of the public highway and was drowned in the Pawcatuck river.

The flag at the Westerly high school will fly in honor of the memory of Mrs. Agnes E. Moriarty, wife of Jerome M. O'Connell, who died of Bright's disease in St. Luke's hospital, New York city, Thursday, Mrs. O'Connell went to New York for special treatment on Thursday of last week. She was born in Lowell in 1875 and four years later came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Moriarty, to Westery, where she had since resided. She was graduated from the Palmer academy and from the Westery high school, class of 1898. She is survived by her husband, father and mother, and a sister, who resides in New York. The body arrived in Westery Friday morning.

Although Westery has the pennant won for the Rhode Island-Connecticut league, there is intense interest in the baseball game with Wakefield on the home ground this (Saturday) afternoon. Wakefield will be strengthened by Howland, pitcher, from the Monmouth, who won the championship of the Rhode Island Inter-City league, and four of his team mates, Shippee, Tully, Freyer and Boyle, and Robertson of Jersey City will catch for Howland. Pitcher Glennon, who did the chief club work for the Holy Trinity team in the Inter-City league and who has been with Westery for several weeks, will be Howland's direct opponent, and Sullivan will be at first base. Thus the Westery team will be the same as the victorious championship ship games from Stonington. Shackley has been assigned to umpire the game.

The season ends Saturday and Stonington will play White Rock at Stonington to decide the second place in the league. White Rock is now one game to the good. Should Stonington win, the teams will be tied for second place. Griggs has been assigned as umpire.

Local Laconics.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dow of Pawcatuck are visiting friends in Westery. Owing to financial difficulties the Bijou theater on the bridge has been closed.

Dr. James Crowley of Westery attended the convention of the Northeastern Dental society in Providence Friday.

Edward J. Fenelon has purchased from Rev. Samuel G. Babcock of Hyde Park, Mass., the three-story business block, 16, 18 and 20 Main street, in Westery.

Francis McNamara, the Mystic boy who was struck by an automobile in this village Thursday evening, was reported to be in a dying condition Friday afternoon.

Charles W. Villard of Westery, one of the Rhode Island fish commissioners, has staked the Pawcatuck river with one hundred and fifty large-mouthed black bass.

Charles Perry, president of the Washington Trust company, has returned from Salem, Ohio, where he attended the wedding of his nephew, Arthur Perry, Jr., of Boston and Miss Rebecca Savory Hutton of Salem. The marriage was according to the Friends' ceremonial. Mr. and Mrs. Perry are members of the Society of Friends.

Millinery Opening.

Perhaps as fine a display of millinery creations ever seen in Westery is now on exhibition at the millinery parlors of Miss Rose Ahern, in High street. Trimmed hats and novelties are tastefully arranged and the general beauty of latest in millinery art is agreeably enhanced by the large collection of quality dahlias used for decorative purposes. These dahlias are from Miss Rose Ahern's gardens and include some of the rarest varieties. So the ladies visiting can enjoy the handsomeness of the display of natural and artificial flowers, as well as the very latest foreign and domestic ideas of fashionable headgear for ladies.—adv.

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes

Trouble.
A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.
